The East Durham Creates Festival was launched on 28 September 2014 with two very special screenings of Billy Elliot The Musical Live in Easington Social Welfare Centre.

Coinciding with a national and international live broadcast of the West End Theatre production these were the only screenings that took place in a venue that is not a theatre or cinema. They were made possible through the generous support of Universal Pictures and Working Title Films, and tickets were subsidised through personal sponsorship from the creative team behind the film Billy Elliot.

Billy’s journey takes him into a ballet class where he discovers a passion for dance that inspires his family and whole community and changes his life forever. East Durham Creates aims to similarly instil and celebrate creative activity across the area.
A very warm welcome...

to the first East Durham Creates Festival, a collection of over 40 performances, exhibitions and events to experience and enjoy this Autumn. The Festival brings unique outdoor performances and film screenings, community parades, theatre and a wide range of workshops, artist talks and much more to towns and villages across the area.

There’s something to experience for all tastes and ages; from playing games in unexpected places, to guided walks with artists and experts exploring local heritage, myths and legends. You can borrow a piece of art to display in your own home or join us to commemorate significant moments in the area’s history.

We’re thrilled to be welcoming highly regarded artists and performers from the UK and beyond to the area, and premiering two special new commissions by artist Dryden Goodwin and composer Ed Carter plus performances from innovative theatre company Uninvited Guests and astonishing Brooklyn-based musicians So Percussion.

Everything on offer for you to experience is inspired by the place, people, stories and heritage of the area - created by internationally recognised artists working closely with local residents. All developed in response to ideas, themes, interests and priorities expressed during extensive and continuing consultation with local people.

We would like to thank everyone involved so far for their energy, enthusiasm, dedication and support and hope to see you at an East Durham Creates Festival event very soon.

ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND
Hello from the team!

East Durham Creates is a programme of arts and cultural activity developed with and for the people of East Durham, which started in May 2014 and will continue until Summer 2016.

Festivals will take place in the spring and autumn of each year, involving art, performance, music, theatre and much more – all created by bringing local people and high quality artists together. We want to explore what great art means here whilst having fun and creating a bit of magic along the way.

This programme is funded by Arts Council England’s Creative People and Places scheme, which aims to get more people taking part in the arts. As well as a team based within the community (that’s us!) we are delighted to be working with Beamish, Forma, East Durham Trust and Durham County Council. All partners involved in this project hold a special connection to the area and are working together, with local residents, to bring what we hope will be a unique and exciting chapter in the story of East Durham.

Our ambition over the next two years is to act as a catalyst in creating an appetite for future activity through providing positive experiences for local residents, encourage more visitors to this beautiful part of the world, attract investment and leave behind a lasting legacy.

There are lots of ways for you to get involved, from simply coming along to experience one of our events, to volunteering, working with artists, shaping the future programme and developing a wide range of skills – you can find more information throughout the programme.

If you want to find out more or sign up to be involved please contact us at stayintouch@eastdurhamcreates.co.uk or call 0191 518 5073.

We really can’t (and don’t want to) do this on our own so please get in touch, tell us what you think and join us – we’d love to hear from you!

With best wishes,

Skill is a new animated film based on artist Dryden Goodwin’s encounters with 12 local people. Each person has a hands-on skill, ranging from tattooing to cake-decorating to horse-handling. The film focuses on the drawings that Dryden made of each of the participants as he observed them working, with their conversations forming an atmospheric sound track.

Why this? Local communities said the art they respected most showed a clear skill. Dryden chose to shine a light on some of the people and skills that exist in East Durham.

Dryden Goodwin’s practice includes drawing, often combined with video. His work has been projected on the roof of St Thomas’s Hospital (opposite the Houses of Parliament) and exhibited across the London Underground, as well as in galleries including Tate Modern.

Throughout East Durham from 29 October to 15 November

Play locations: FREE
Apollo Pavillion, Peterlee; Byron Place, Seaham; Easington Welfare Park; Greenhills Centre, Wheatley Hill; Horden Welfare Park; Shotton Community Centre.

A series of games will be installed around East Durham in parks, near buildings and in other surprising locations - there might be one in your street. Play with friends, strangers, workmates...even your dog!

See if you can find all the games, take pictures and share them with us. They are easy to understand, don’t require any equipment and can be played by anyone.

Why this? Art isn’t always serious. By putting games in unexpected places, we hope you might see East Durham in a totally new way.

Holly Gramazio makes real-world games for public spaces. She has developed large projects including the New Year Games in Edinburgh in 2012, and 99 Tiny Games installed all over London for the Cultural Olympiad.
Imagine going into a gallery, falling in love with a piece of art...and being able to take it home. With the Art Lending Library, a piece of art is yours to exhibit and enjoy for three days. We will install it, take it down and take care of things like insurance - and ensure there are no holes are left in your walls! Choose a piece for your school, community centre, workplace or shop – it’s up to you!

Why this? Art doesn’t have to belong in an art gallery. Art Lending Library contains over 50 works that can be borrowed, handled, performed and maybe even worn! Each Art Lending Library begins with an outdoor parade - visit our website for more information.

Zoe Walker and Neil Bromwich create objects and situations that invite people to consider other ways of thinking or being. They have exhibited and presented performances internationally and at many UK galleries.
Exhibition: FREE
1 to 13 November St John’s Church, Seaham 10am – 2pm & 3.30pm – 6pm (*1pm – 5pm on Sundays)

Inspired by the region’s maritime heritage, and responding specifically to the 1962 George Elmy lifeboat disaster, Fl10s: False Lights, Seaham combines sculpture, light, and sound.

The specially-commissioned work incorporates 10 large-scale orchestral bell plates, a set of tuned steel plates played using electromagnetic fields. The resulting sounds are haunting, otherworldly and unique.

The large, oak-framed instrument emits dense tones as the bell plates resonate, and the skeletal, timber form creates a sense of motion as lights arc around the structure.
Music Performance: £10 (£3 East Durham residents)
Saturday 15 November  Seaham Marina  4.30pm

To commemorate the anniversary of the George Elmy disaster, please join us for the live premiere of Ed Carter’s new composition for Fl10S:False Lights Seaham, performed with professional percussionists and local brass band musicians.

Hot food and drink will be available. In the event of bad weather, an alternative venue will be used – please check our website for details.

Why this? Ed’s earlier work The False Lights of Durham was inspired by the county’s coastline, marked by ten lighthouses. This work focuses on Seaham lighthouse, and the events it has ‘witnessed’ since its construction in 1905.

Ed Carter creates physical projects and new musical compositions. 40,000 people visited his 2012 project ~Flow (a collaboration with Owl Project) - a floating mill house moored on the River Tyne, containing wooden musical machines powered by a waterwheel which responded to the river’s tides.
A cross between a wedding reception and a radio request programme, each performance is based on the audience’s favourite songs and stories about the people they love (and perhaps lost). Audience members are invited to send a song request or memory before the performance you are attending, so no two evenings are the same!

Why this? This show is about love in all its forms and is happening in venues across East Durham where important family celebrations take place.

Uninvited Guests is a theatre company whose work blurs the line between theatre and social festivities. Audiences join in events that are celebratory, nostalgic and critical.
Walk, Talk and Eat: FREE
Saturday 1 & 8 November
Secret location
11.30am

Pan Haggerty? Panacalty? Panakerty? How do YOU say it? One thing’s for sure – we all love to eat! Artist Gayle Chong Kwan becomes the Pan Hag, a character who absorbs local myths and legends as she takes you on a mystery tour through East Durham. You’ll forage for food, cook and share stories together as you explore ancient pathways, both real and imagined.

Booking is advised as places are limited, visit www.eastdurhamcreates.co.uk or call 0191 518 5073. All will be revealed upon booking - sensible shoes are recommended!

Why this? There are strong cooking and food-growing traditions locally. Gayle is the perfect artist to bring them together and create some magic!

Gayle Chong Kwan is known for creating fantastic scenes and landscapes that are often sited in the public realm. Gayle has been working with East Durham Creates since May and is spending twelve months here as our first artist in residence.
SO Percussion

Music performance: £10 (£3 East Durham residents)
Saturday 1 November The Glebe Centre, Murton 7.30pm

Brooklyn-based SO Percussion will hit us with awesome, high-energy music. This utterly unpredictable group have been known to make music with twigs, bottles, tables, and flowerpots...who knows what they’ll be inspired by in East Durham?!

SO Percussion will also be running two FREE workshops for East Durham residents, visit www.eastdurhamcreates.co.uk for details or call 0191 518 5073 to find out more information and book your place!

Why this? Many of you told us you loved STOMP, so we’ve found a percussion group with an international reputation who make amazing music. SO Percussion are coming back to East Durham to make a new musical performance with local people next year.

SO Percussion’s adventurous spirit has gained a worldwide reputation, and their career includes 16 albums, collaborative projects and educational work.
Throughout the two years of East Durham Creates we’ll be offering opportunities for East Durham residents to develop new creative and practical skills.

Register on www.eastdurhamcreates.co.uk for updates about what’s coming up.

East Durham Reviews

Talk: FREE
Saturday 1 November  Shotton Hall, Peterlee  4.30pm

We’re looking for local people to review our programme, and also to give an East Durham viewpoint on arts and cultural events across the whole North East region. This is open to anyone interested in writing, no matter what your experience - maybe a career in media sounds interesting, but you’re not sure where to start...

Come along to a talk by Alice Vincent of the Daily Telegraph, who will discuss unconventional routes into journalism and art criticism. You’ll have the chance to sign up to review East Durham Creates events, and register for training as part of the East Durham Reviews skills development programme.

Delivered in partnership with New Writing North.

Kids for Kids UK BFI Film Academy

Are you 16-19? Fancy becoming a filmmaker? We’re looking for applications for the Kids for Kids UK BFI Film Academy, taking place in East Durham during the festival!

The BFI Film Academy (www.bfi.org.uk/filmacademy) helps to train and inspire the next generation of British filmmakers and offers training for every film industry role. The academy also provides learning around film history and cinematic storytelling to inspire a fuller appreciation of film culture.

Closing date for applications is 12 noon on 13 October 2014.

For more information please contact Helen Ward, Kids for Kids UK Festival Director: info@kidsforkidsuk.org, 01388 765002

Delivered in partnership with Kids for Kids UK, BFI Film Academy and Jack Drum Arts

Tuesday 4 November East Durham Creates, Peterlee 4pm – 8pm

We’re looking for local arts groups, artists, choirs, theatre groups, musicians, community groups – you name it – to be a part of the East Durham Creates programme. There are all sorts of ways for you to get involved, and there will be a funding pot available for you to bid into with your ideas.

As part of this Festival we’re holding an open evening for you to find out more about the programme, tell us about yourselves and talk to us about any ideas you have. Let’s get East Durham’s creative blood pumping!

The art of developing your business...

Networking: FREE
Wednesday 12 November Plants R Ross, Easington 5.45pm – 8.30pm

Are you an artist designer, crafter or maker from the area, looking for free practical advice and support in how to commercialise your skills, win that important commission or sell more of your products? Why not attend our special event, hosted with our friends at Durham Creatives.

Durham Creatives is a partnership between Blue Sky Think LLP and Culture Works and is supported by Durham County Council and the European Regional Development Fund.

To book a place or to discuss either of the events above, please contact stayintouch@eastdurhamcreates.co.uk or call 0191 518 5073
There’s a wide range of year round opportunities for everyone to get involved including working alongside artists, shaping the programme, becoming a volunteer and developing your skills. If any of this sounds interesting - even if you’re not sure exactly what’s involved - please visit our website or get in touch for a chat.

Go and See

We’d like to invite you to come with us on ‘Go and See’ trips to theatre and dance performances, exhibitions, events and festivals taking place outside of East Durham. Each visit will involve something special such as meeting artists, backstage tours or getting a ‘behind the scenes’ glimpse of works-in-progress.

Upcoming events are listed on our website. Please sign up to come along!

Are you a local group, venue, organisation or business?

We’re very interested in hearing from groups, organisations and venues about Hosting, supporting, or getting involved in future activity. We’d also like to talk to local businesses to develop a range of opportunities for working in partnership.

If anything that you’ve read sounds interesting – even if you’re not exactly sure what’s involved – please sign up to our mailing list or get in touch for a chat:

Hewin’ Goals - Backscratch Theatre

Backscratch Theatre is a newly formed company based in County Durham. Our plan is to support their development over the course of East Durham Creates.

Hewin’ Goals - a play with prizes

A brand-new production complete with drama, comedy and songs.

Come and celebrate the 125th Anniversary of the Northern League, the second oldest football league in the world, which had teams and players who proudly belonged to their communities. More than a story of football, this is a story of knowing who you are, and its importance in a changing world.

TINY - Replay Theatre

Wednesday 22 October at 10am, 11am, 1pm & 2pm

£5 child + adult, £3 additional tickets

TINY, Replay’s new show for babies, comes with its own theatre space and is performed to just a few babies at a time.

Full of magical sounds, lights and textures, TINY takes our very youngest audience members on a fantastical journey full of wonder and surprises! Suitable for 0 – 12 months.

TINY is part of TakeOff Festival produced by Theatre Hullabaloo, the North East’s specialist producer of theatre for young audiences.
We've been working across East Durham for quite some time now and have already completed a few great projects that deserve a special mention!

Exchanges

Exchanges gave more than 300 local people of all ages the chance to get creative with local artists Nicola Balfour, Jane Shaw, Paul Merrick and David Gross. The work they made featured as part of our launch exhibition in May at The Art Block Seaham, an arts space run by East Durham Artists Network. But the conversations that happened were just as important, and many of the things that participants said helped to shape the festival programme. Exchanges was funded by East Durham Area Action Partnership.

Cinema Sports: Ready...Steady...Film!

Eight groups in East Durham have taken up an incredible challenge: to make a short film in just 10 hours, with a list of pre-set “ingredients”. Is it possible to make a movie in just one day that includes a crazy array of characters and objects? Supported by professionals, our teams’ completed films are being entered into the international CinemaSports competition - some may even be screened at festivals around the world!

Delivered in partnership with Kids for Kids UK and CinemaSports

Low Tide Day

Did you come to say hello in Seaham on the 17th May? More than 1300 people were there, and over half of you came over to see what we were up to and take part in activities. Gayle Chong Kwan made an activity called Myths, Meals and Monsters, and you shared your stories and memories while enjoying delicious local food. Holly Gramazio made some fun, simple games printed on postcards for you to try. Both artists have used the things that you told them on the day to help create their work for this Festival.

Low Tide Day was presented in partnership with Durham Heritage Coast and Limestone Landscape Partnership.
